Hey CyberPals!

Over the Summer, I have been re-vamping the site. Much of it isn't noticeable to the human eye yet, but Googlebots seem to appreciate it. So does the W3C as I have made it all SEO-friendly and standards compliant.

One of the major changes has been to my font site. It was too much to keep up with, and I got lazy left too much broken or unfinished.

Well... I finally did something about that!

* large samples of every font
* descriptions for searches
* The artists that made them

Coming up within the month, will be an Artist directory, and a search function to make it easier to find what you need for your scrapbooking, design, printing project.

SOAPBOX: RANTS AND RAVES...
You Either 'Get It'... or You Don't. (July 10th, 2011)- Life is a never ending river flow. Sometimes the course can become dangerously erratic; Sometimes it's filled with obstacles like rocks and fallen trees; Sometimes it reaches an 'end' with a really large drop, where it continues again.
