Hey CyberPals!

It's been a while hasn't it?

Got a lot going on these days, how have you been? You haven't been working as a page for any Republican congressmen lately, have you?

Meet me on MySpace
Recently I joined the bandwagon and set up MySpace pages. It seems all the big names are using it to augment their web presence, so why should I be any different?

Photoshop Contests on Problem Adults
CALLING ALL ARTISTS! Every week, a moderator puts up a new graphic for us to wreck... look at what happened to a Britney Spears statue. [Link NOT safe for work]

New Websites
My boss at work has granted me a bit of artistic freedom when it comes to many of our sites. Check out my latest work on Punta Cana's Best and Philadelphia's Best.

Phoenix Update
As you may (or may not) be aware of, my entire site as well as a few others are powered by my own proprietary CMS system. I call it "Phoenix CMS" and it's been about 3 years in the making. It does everything from keep track of visitors to send out newsletters.

Plans are also in the making to power online stores (shopping carts and all) but Real Estate websites as well.

When it's ready for the public, I'll let you know.

SoApBoX: Rantz & Raves"The REAL reason why "Nice Guys Finish Last"" (July 2nd, 2006)- Well? Cuz you're an idiot. What do you want me to tell you? You fell for those ridiculous Cosmopolitan articles, and you're puzzled as she "thinks of you as a big brother" now. And of course it's all her fault because "women make no sense", right?
http://www.ericbrooks.com/soapbox/article.php?p=179"Do Onto Others (Until They Know How It Feels)" (January 12th, 2006)- Why do people suffer? Largely it's learn how to have compassion and sympathy for others in a similar situation. Unfortunately human beings are dense in that area.
http://www.ericbrooks.com/soapbox/article.php?p=178"Nice guys (and girls) finish last at work too." (May 1st, 2005)- What a lot of us "Good Worker Bees" (aka "Grunts") fail to realize is that companies are dominated by "Suits" who are ready to take credit for the good and push the errors off to blame on some flunky who is usually on the bottom of the food chain... how to survive the Corporate ladder and screw them before they screw you first. http://www.ericbrooks.com/soapbox/article.php?p=176
